At The Crossing Places The Arthur Trilogy is a sweeping epic that explores the timeless themes of love, loss, and destiny. Set against the backdrop of Arthurian legend, this trilogy tells the story of three generations of women whose lives are intertwined by a mysterious ancient prophecy.

The first book in the trilogy, The Mists of Avalon, introduces us to Morgaine, Viviane, and Igraine, three powerful women who are destined to play a pivotal role in the fate of Britain. Morgaine is a priestess of Avalon, Viviane is the Lady of the Lake, and Igraine is the mother of Arthur. As the women navigate the treacherous waters of love, betrayal, and war, they must come to terms with their own destinies and the prophecy that binds them.

The second book in the trilogy, The Forests of Avalon, follows the next generation of women who are connected to the prophecy. Elaine is the daughter of Lancelot and Guinevere, and she is destined to become the Grail Maiden. Nimue is a young priestess of Avalon who is chosen to succeed Morgaine. And Morgan le Fay is the illegitimate daughter of Arthur who is determined to avenge her father's death.

The third book in the trilogy, The Lady of Avalon, brings the story to its epic . The women of Avalon must face their greatest challenges yet as they battle against the forces of darkness that threaten to destroy Britain. In the end, the prophecy will be fulfilled, and the fate of the kingdom will rest in the hands of the women who have been chosen to guide it.

At The Crossing Places The Arthur Trilogy is a beautifully written and deeply moving epic that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. Marion Zimmer Bradley has created a timeless story that explores the complex relationships between women, love, and destiny. This trilogy is a must-read for fans of Arthurian legend and epic fantasy.
