Every great rapper draws inspiration from those who came before them. Take some time to reflect on the artists whose music resonates with you. Analyze their flow, wordplay, and delivery. Identify what elements of their style you appreciate and would like to incorporate into your own.

Step 2: Know Your Message

What do you want to say through your music? What stories and experiences do you want to share? Define your message and tailor your lyrics accordingly. Authenticity is key, so draw from your own life, emotions, and perspectives.

Step 3: Craft Your Flow

The rhythm and cadence of your words are crucial. Experiment with different tempos, rhyme schemes, and syllable patterns. Find a flow that feels natural and allows your lyrics to flow effortlessly.
